The High Cost Of Killing Time

How quickly the misuse of money when found out sparks our moral indignation into fires of investigation!

Yet how slow we are to see that the misuse of man-hour is as morally wrong and harmful as ever the misuse of money.

Padding the hours with a man's mere presence on the job, without using either his mind or his muscles, can be morally crippling to him. In fact, the deliberate waste of a man's power to produce and stand in the dignity of a living fully earned, is waste of a man.

Whoever causes such waste for another or to himself would be responsible for damaging not only the person, but would be contributing to weakening the nation's economic strength.

ONE VOTE IS IMPORTANT !!!

What good will one vote do? This question is heard often about election time. In this country one vote can do a lot of things. In the past one vote has had a lot to do in deciding many important national elections.

Thomas Jefferson was elected President by one vote in the electoral college. So was John Quincy Adams.

Rutherford B. Hayes was elected President by one vote. His election was contested, and it was referred to an electoral commission. That one vote held up.

The man who cast the deciding vote for President Hayes was a Congressman from Indiana, a lawyer, who was elected to Congress by a margin of just one vote, and that one vote was cast by a client of his who, although seriously ill, insisted on being taken to the polls to vote.

Just one vote gave statehood to California, Idaho, Oregon, Texas, and Washington . . . and today all the millions living in those five states are American by just one vote.

You may say that the one vote situation applies only to the past. The Draft Act of World War II passed the House by just one vote . . . and you can carry this One Vote History on and on.

The right to vote is a precious privilege. Use this privilege and help to safeguard our form of government.

Are you registered to vote? Remember that the last day for VOTER REGISTRATION IS SEPTEMBER 28.

North Regional Champs

GAT Employee's Son On New Boston Squad Championship Team

Many GAT employees followed with enthusiasm the progress of the New Boston Little League All-Stars in their march to the Little League World's Series at Williamsport, Pa. Dean Tackett was a member of this team and was the only 11-year old boy to make the roster. Dean's father is Challis Tackett, special & mechanical shops department.

New Boston was one of eight teams to make the Little League World's Series. Along the tournament trail they defeated Portsmouth Western Division (11 innings), Eastern Division, and Southern Division. Others in the district play-offs were Minford, Washington C. H., and Fairborn for the 11th District Championship. In the State Tournament the team defeated Lebanon, Ashland, and Elyria for the Championship.

Two games were played in the 22 state-northern regional at Gary, Indiana. The team won the first game from Lebanon, Missouri, and the second game against Harperwoods, Michigan, which gave New Boston the Northern Regional Championship and a berth in the World's Championship series at Williamsport, Pa.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE

The President and the Vice President of the United States are the only elective Federal officials not elected by direct vote of the people. They are elected by the members of the Electoral College, an institution that has survived since the founding of the nation despite more than 100 attempts in Congress to alter or abolish it.

the consolation bracket they defeated Pearl Harbor to place 5th in the tournament.

Levittown beat Fort Worth to take the world's championship.

Young Tackett had a wonderful experience . . . an experience that comes to a select few during a lifetime.

A review of Little League history shows that at the close of the 1959 season there were 5,228 Little Leagues in 23 nations around the world. Over 1,000,000 boys were involved in the Little League program.

Dean can look forward to next season with an added desire. Being the only 11-year old on this year's All-Star team he still has another year of eligibility. The wonderful experience he has had as a member of the New Boston team this year will be an added incentive for him to give a little extra effort next year.

Dean Tackett

New Boston represented the United States from the North Region in the World's Series. Others were: Lakewood, California, representing the West; Fort Worth Texas, representing the South; and Levittown, Pa., representing the East. Other entries in the series were Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; Berlin, Germany; Monterey, Mexico; and Toronto, Canada.

Lakewood defeated New Boston in the first game which eliminated them from further championship play. In Miss Swenson also has a bachelor of science in nursing degree from Cincinnati University's College of Nursing and Health. She is a graduate of the Jewish Hospital School of Nursing in Cincinnati. She is currently on the staff of the Child Guidance Home in Cincinnati, a joint project of the Jewish Hospital, Community Chest, and the department of psychiatry of the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine.

The program in which Miss Swenson majored is one of three in psychiatric nursing for which the University of Cincinnati College of Nursing and Health has received federal grants totaling more than $413,000.

GAT Bowling Leagues In Action

Bowling Continues To Be Most Popular Employee Activity

Emily Post and Amy Vanderbilt didn't include bowling etiquette in their books, but some of the simple, basic rules of good manners, courtesy and consideration as prescribed by these two certainly are applicable at any bowling establishment.

The bowling season at Goodyear Atomic Corporation is off to a fine start this year. Bowling leagues are flourishing in the four major areas — Chillicothe, Waverly, Jackson, and Portsmouth. Over six-hundred ambitious GAT bowlers will be competing each week in the hope their team will emerge the champion next spring.

With the 1960-61 season in full swing, some do's and do-not's are offered to help promote bowling etiquette and good sportsmanship.

It has been said that bowling is a temperamental game — 90 percent temper, 10 percent mental. A bowler should strive for poise, self-control and philosophical attitude whenever things aren't going well.

Missing a spare, drawing a "split" or getting "tapped" on what must have appeared to be a perfect strike — these are some of the little things which try a bowler's patience and disposition.

Stamping feet, kicking the ball-return racks, pounding fists on scoring tables, shouting blasphemy at pins which refuse to tumble and flailing arms and legs . . . such antics will neither alter nor enlighten the situation. Nor are they apt to do much for the enjoyment of the other bowlers who have equal rights on the same lanes.

One of the most abused rules of etiquette is seen when bowlers on adjacent lanes are ready to deliver the ball. Usually, the bowler on the right should have the "right of way" and be permitted to shoot first, and the opponent should stand back so as not to hinder.

Having two bowlers take their approach strides simultaneously almost invariably leads to distraction for one of the bowlers, if not both. There are those, at that, who don't need horse-type blinders, but they usually are the one who are so strongly concentrative that nothing and no one will interfere.

Making like an acrobat, adagio artist, boxer, baseball pitcher, football placekicker or other such antics isn't really as amusing as the "exercise hounds" might think. Once the heavy round ball has left the hand, it's rolling its natural way down the lane, and nothing can be done back at the delivery area.

Unnecessary delay is another bane of bowlers and proprietors. All teams should be ready at the prescribed starting times, and all individuals should be ready to take their turns when the pins are set down.

A pamphlet from the Women's International Bowling Congress sums up this subject with this thought:

"Since we live with people almost every minute of the day, we would all live happier lives, shorn of sudden 'tiffs' and long estrangements if we thought of the other fellow first; think before we say that harsh word or make that blunt move. Naturally, we can't always be completely selfless, but in the little daily things that comprise casual human relationships, etiquette and manners will develop painlessly if thoughtfulness becomes a habit . . . for conduct directed by thinking can only react to one's own benefit, and like a person with good manners is welcomed anywhere, so is a bowler with good manners."
