MEET THE MANAGEMENT:

G. Ashburn Koch Directs Evansville Firm's Sheet Metal Operation Here

Serving as the resident manager of George Koch Sons, Inc., on the Evansville, Indiana firm's sheet metal construction operation for Peter Kiewit Sons' Co. at the Portsmouth Area project, is G. Ashburn Koch.

A veteran in the field of public and employee relations for many years and an executive of George Koch Sons, Inc., Koch is currently confronted with the task of directing the construction of the world's largest sheet metal ventilating system at the Portsmouth Area AEC project.

on his spare time, he has become an accomplished magician, and is a member of the International Brotherhood of Magicians. Among his many other affiliations are the American Management Association, the American Waterworks Association, and the Chamber of Commerce in Evansville, and Santa Claus, Indiana, and Portsmouth. He is currently residing in Portsmouth with his wife and two daughters.

G. ASHBURN KOCH

One of the three large CPFF subcontractors on the Portsmouth Area job, GKS will fabricate and install all of the heating, ventilating and air conditioning systems at the huge gaseous diffusion plant, in addition to numerous other sheet metal features.

"Ash" Koch was born into the sheet metal business. The grandson of a German immigrant, he is the second son in a family of five boys and four girls, and represents the third generation of the Koch family to follow the sheet metal trade.

G. Ashburn Koch was educated in the public and high schools of Evansville, then graduated from the University of Chicago with a Ph.B. degree in 1931. With the exception of three years in the wholesale floral business in Omaha, Nebraska, he has remained in the firm of George Koch Sons, Inc., ever since.

For 16 years before coming to the Portsmouth Area project, he acted as manager of the company's production plant and also handled their employee and public relations. Always civic minded, "Ash" has for many years devoted his time and energy to the betterment of health and welfare conditions in his community.

Of more than passing interest is the nationally known post-office and children's park at Santa Claus, Indiana, operated by the Koch family to perpetuate the spirit of Christmas. Each year many thousands of tourists visit the famous location. Despite countless demands

Safety Hard Hat Is Again Credited With Saving Project Employee's Life

It may not flatter your appearance, it may be a bit uncomfortable, and you might not like its shape or color, but the safety hard hat is still one of the best friends a construction man can have.

Living proof that the hard hat is not just another piece of burdensome equipment can be given by E. E. Keen, a Grinnell Corporation pipefitter.

E. E. KEEN

Several days ago while Keen was working in the X-333 process building, he was struck on the head by a 12-pound metal pulley block which had fallen 75 feet. Luckily enough Keen's hard hat, which now carries a three-inch dent, prevented him from being killed or seriously injured. Keen was only stunned and was back on the job the following day.

PKS Safety Chief J. F. Madura said this was the 23rd instance since the job began in which the wearing of a hard hat had either saved an employee's life or prevented serious injury.

OFFICES CLOSED LABOR DAY

All offices of construction companies on the project will close on Monday, September 6, in observance of Labor Day, it has been announced by PKS General Manager George C. Holling. Only field forces whose services are necessary for plant maintenance an protection will be required to work on the holiday.

NEW SITE FOR DRIVER EXAMS

Corporal Earl Sauner of the Portsmouth Post of the Ohio State Highway Patrol has announced that effective Wednesday, August 25, the location for driver's license examinations in Portsmouth will be changed from the City Building to the National Guard armory at 2313 17th Street. Examinations are given between the hours of 9:00 A. M. and 5:00 P. M. on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of each week and from 9:00 A. M. until Noon on Saturday.

How Much Of A Hurry Are You In?

Actually, what is your hurry? Are you in such a rush to reach the time clock and your car each evening that you will risk serious injury to yourself and others just to save a few minutes or maybe even nothing?

In recent weeks two employees on this job sustained broken legs as a result of falls while running to a line up at time alleys. Countless others have fallen or been knocked down during the frenzied rush to the clock by persons trying to jump the gun and save a minute.

"I realize that it is human nature for all of us to want to be first, whether it is to be at the clock alley, the ball park or the theater. But it is physically impossible for everybody to be first. This urge must be tempered, by courtesy and common sense," said Pks Safety Department Chief J. F. Madura.

If the workers guilty of running and pushing their way to the clock alley would consider that a minute saved could mean a ruined life or a family without an income, it is certain more and better cooperation from everyone would be forthcoming.

Think! Safety Has No Quitting Time. You can be injured just as easy going to and from work as you can while actually on the job.

CARELESS PEOPLE have no license to hunt even after they've bought one.

ANNUAL EVENT AT FAIRGROUNDS AUG. 28th:

PROJECT PICNIC SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

"Fun for all" will be the theme of the day on Saturday, August 28, when several thousand Portsmouth Area employees and their families are expected to attend the 2nd annual Project Family Picnic sponsored by the PKS Recreation Division at Lucasville Fairgrounds.

Luther F. Poling, chief of the Recreation Division, said arrangements have been completed to make the event one of the biggest ever held at the Scioto County Fairgrounds. Last year over 1,500 persons attended the project-wide event.

Plans call for the gates to open at 1:00 P. M., with activity scheduled throughout the remainder of the afternoon and evening. At 2:45 P. M. a series of contests for young and old alike will take place in front of the grandstand.

On the list of contests will be a greased pole with a $10 prize on top, nail driving contests, wheelbarrow races and a rolling pin throwing contest, in addition to many other novelty races and contests. All youngsters are asked to bring a turtle to enter the "Turtle Derby."

Also on the list of afternoon activity will be a singles and doubles horseshoe tournament with cash prizes going to the winners. One of the day's highlights is set for 4:30 P. M. when several hundred applicants are expected to try to catch the greased pig, which the lucky individual will get to take home.

At 4:45 P. M. in front of the grandstand female project employees and dependents will vote for the title of "Miss Portsmouth Area" in a project beauty contest. (Continued on page 3.)

A SINCERE THANK YOU

When our company was notified of its selection to assume responsibility of building this installation for the Atomic Energy Commission, one of our first considerations was the selection of the best available subcontractors to help us with the mechanical electrical and sheet metal installations.

The three major subcontractors selected, the Grinnell Corp., Reynolds-Newbery, Joint Venture, and George Koch Sons, Inc., have more than measured up to our expectations.

I am taking this opportunity to publicly thank each of you who are associated with these companies. You can be proud of your association and your contributions to the success of the project up to this point.

FIRE PREVENTION by LT. ROBERT McNISH

Electricity can start fires, too, if it gets a chance. If the electric equipment you use needs repairs, get the one assigned to this work to make them.

Unless you know as much about electricity as an electrician, don't try to do wiring. You may overload circuits or fail to insulate properly.

In case a fire should start, we have fire extinguishers spotted around the project. Know where they are and how to use them.

The only way to make sure there won't be a blaze here is to prevent the conditions that could cause a fire.

Recreation Division To Present Movies For Area Youngsters

The PKS Recreation Division has announced a schedule for children's movies to be shown at various trailer courts and housing projects throughout the area during the coming weeks.

Included in the pictures to be shown are: Ride 'em Cowboy, Winchester 73, Red Stallion, Francis, Bandit of Sherwood Forest, Bomba the Jungle Boy and Start Cheering.

All movies are free to dependents of Portsmouth Area project employees. Listed below are dates and locations of movies that will be presented from August 20 through September 17.

Maintaining General, Cost Ledgers Is Big Job Of General Accounting Div.

Another one of the numerous divisions that play an important part in the over-all Peter Kiewit Sons' Co. operation on the Portsmouth Area project is the General Accounting Division of the PKS Accounting Department.

This division is responsible for maintaining the General Ledger, which reflects the assets, liabilities, and investments in the contract, and the Cost Ledger which shows construction costs in detail as required by management.

The General Accounting Division is divided into General and Cost Ledger and Reports Branches, and is under the supervision of C. E. "Cliff" Skinner.

Through the maximum utilization of the Tabulating Department's IBM equipment, many hundreds of thousands of manual postings and extensions have been eliminated. It is estimated that currently the procedures developed allowing use of Tabulating Department facilities eliminate approximately 1,500,000 postings or extensions each month for the Cost Ledger Branch of the division.

Billings for services or materials furnished on the job are prepared by the General Accounting Division, as well as the follow-up under the collection procedure to assure receipt of funds for all receivables.

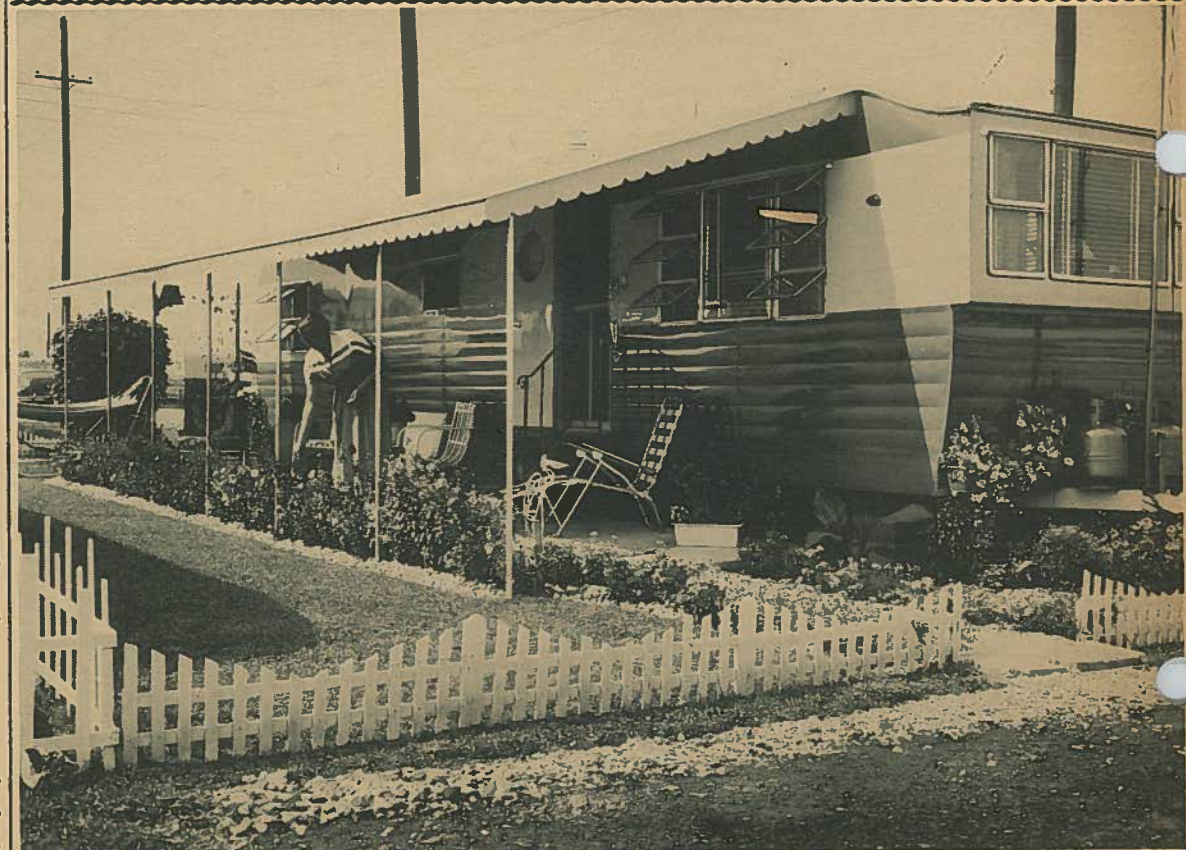

Working closely with the PKS Cost Control Division and Cost Engineering Section, they coordinate the accounting functions with other cost require-

CONTROLLING HORSEPLAY

Horseplay is a term we use to describe the actions of practical jokers or would-be funmakers, who assume no responsibility for the results of their acts.

The practical joker is usually a person who wants to provide amusement for the gang. He's the life-of-the-party type. He gets his greatest satisfaction from drawing laughs from his fellow workers by performing pranks or making remarks that cause discomfort to someone else. He usually doesn't mean any harm. When he tries to make someone else look ridiculous, he does so for the sake of a gag.

What the horseplayer doesn't realize is that his stunts and pranks can cause injury to the other fellow, and to himself, too. Sometimes the practical jokers get away with their pranks—maybe they don't even hurt anyone. But sometimes practical jokes backfire, and the fellow on the receiving end builds up a feeling of resentment. He may not be able to pay back; he may not even want to. But he may be so burned up that he can't keep his mind on his job. He's in just the right state of mind to cause injury to himself or to others.

You all know from your own experience that the horseplayer is a show-off, a nuisance, and an accident maker, who violates the safety regulations that protect us all. A person who has nonsense in his mind doesn't have his mind on his work. It's too late after a man is injured to say, "I'm sorry," or "I didn't mean it."

The next time you're tempted to administer a "hot foot", pull a chair out from under someone, or shake a ladder when it is being used—don't do it!

An EFFICIENCY EXPERT is smart enough to tell you how to run your own business and too smart to start one of his own.—Businessman's Book of Quotations.

Pike County Health Department Cites Trailer Park Code Violations

As a result of numerous complaints received by the state and Pike County Health Departments in recent weeks on the increasing number of unsanitary conditions and nuisance complaints, Portsmouth Area employees residing in trailers in the Pike County area are urged to check and comply with all Trailer Park Regulations as set forth by the State of Ohio.

According to Dr. N. A. Dyer, health commissioner, the majority of these conditions are concerned with trailer home owners. Dr. Dyer, in an interview, referred to the "Trailer Park Regulations" which state that any lot, site, field or tract of land upon which three or more house trailers used for habitation are parked, either free of charge or for revenue purposes, shall constitute a trailer park.
